SINCE THE PASSING OF THE OLD LAW WEST into effect a good many "sugar bushes" over the country seem to have gone out of commission, judging from the very limited supply of maple sirup which is able to bear the legend "pure." Yet if one cannot get the real article a very wholesome substitute can be made by the use of cornsols, which will impart both flavor and color. White cobs clean and freshly shelled are the best for the purpose. They should be put in a kettle and boiled for about an hour, or until the coloring matter shows clearly in the water. They should then be removed, the water carefully strained to remove particles of cob and sediment and enough coffee or light brown sugar added to give the sirup the desired thickness after a few minutes' boiling. If the job is carefully done not only will this cob sirup have a delicate flavor closely resembling maple sirup, but the color also will be a close counter-

THE FLAMING ARROW

The Flaming Arrow which appears at Walter's Theatre Monday, February 6 is a gem of dramatic art in five acts. The play has a simple theme, yet vigorous in thought and has those touches of human nature that appeal to all classes. There is no mawkish sentiment in the lines or action. No strain for dramatic effects. A fine, delightful story, characters alive and real. The play is strong in interest, the thoughts purely American and captivate the applause of all audiences.

RAILROAD FARE TO BE RAISED

Fares on Western Maryland between Gettysburg and Nearby Points to be Raised Fifty Per Cent this Month.

The local office of the Western Maryland Railway has received advice of a general increase in fares to become effective on February 16. The fares between Gettysburg and all the nearby points will be affected, the rate in most of the instances being just fifty per cent higher than at present, due to an increase from the two cent a mile rate to the three cent rate.

The present rates between Gettysburg and all points beyond Summit on the east and Charmian on the west remain as at the present time, the increase not affecting travel to points in Maryland or those which come under the inter-state commerce regulations.

The present rates and those which will be charged between Gettysburg and the points named under the new rate are given as follows:

SURVEYING FOR NEW STATE ROAD

State Surveyors at Work between Gettysburg and Bendersville on Extensions which will Connect Four Towns with Good Highway.

A force of surveyors under the direction of Edward S. Frey, of the State Highway Department, is at work between Gettysburg and Bendersville surveying the route of the proposed macadam road which will ultimately connect the county seat with Biglerville and Bendersville and, by the road already built, with Arendtsville.

Half of the distance between Gettysburg and Biglerville is already state highway and there is, in addition to this, a good proportion of the state road between Biglerville and Bendersville. The plan now is to build the uncompleted portion to Biglerville and from Biglerville the unfinished stretch between that town and Bendersville.

This scheme, if carried out will connect the three hustling towns with the county seat and the fertile territory along the route, bringing a large portion of Adams County's busy north end into close touch with Gettysburg, by means of good passable roads at all seasons of the year, greatly facilitating the traffic between the towns and the country districts.

There are perhaps few roads in the county more traveled than the one which is now being considered for the next Adams County state highway extension. Its conversion into the model state roads would mean much and be a great benefit to a great number who earnestly hope and are working for the consummation of the plan.

NARROW ESCAPE

A couple weeks ago the city newspapers contained an account of a New York City baker who was ground to pulp in a dough mixing machine and a repetition of this terrible tragedy might have been enacted in York Springs recently when N. R. Criswell came very near being drawn into the dough mixer which he recently installed in his bakery. Mr. Criswell was pouring some flour on the "spong" when he noticed a small piece of paper dropping into the machine which he attempted to recover. The big arms of the mixer just grazed his hand and when he realized how near he had come to being drawn into the machine he became so weak that he was compelled to stop work.

CHARMIAN POST OFFICE ROBBED

Bold Burglars Break Glass and Gain Entrance to Post Office and Store. Get Little Money and not Much Else.

The post office and general merchandise store of C. S. Martin, at Charming, was broken into early Thursday morning and robbed of shoes, clothing and other valuables. Mr. Martin closed his place of business Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock and went to his home, which is only a short distance from the store. Thursday morning when he opened his store at 6.30, he discovered the glass, 20x20, of the front of his building smashed.

Upon investigation he found that thieves had been at work on the inside. Clothing, shoes and underwear had been thrown about the room and about $50 worth had been carried off—just how much Mr. Martin is unable to estimate.

The robbers also pried open Mr. Martin's cash register that was on the counter, near the door, but their efforts at securing cash were unavailing as the storekeeper always leaves it empty at night.

They also went through his office desk and overlooked $5.70 in change that was in it.

The postoffice, which occupies an apartment in the store room, was ransacked, and, although letters, packages, etc., were turned topsy turvy and scattered over the floor, only a few stamps were missed. About $12 or $15 worth of stamp books, which sold for 35, 49 and 97 cents, had been taken out of the postoffice and left on the counter of the store.

It is thought that the merchandise line must have attracted the attention of the thieves after they left the office and they laid the books down and forgot to take them along with them when they left.

One thing they did not forget to take, however, was a valuable plain, solid gold ring belonging to Mr. Martin, which the latter, by an oversight, had left on his desk.

MEXICAN REBELS SURROUND JUAREZ

Federal Troops Are Driven Back Into Town.

RIDERLESS HORSES FOUND

Government Casualties Believed to Be Heavier Than Reported—Blow Up Powder House at the Approach of Rebels.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 3.—The Mexican troops were defeated in the first clash with the rebels near Juarez and retreated to the town. They said two men were killed and three wounded.

The police of Juarez exploded the federal powder house two miles from Juarez to prevent the rebels taking it and securing ammunition. The explosion shook both Juarez and El Paso. The rebels are now about twelve miles from Juarez.

The returning troops declared they met the insurgents coming to Juarez on a train and exploded a charge of dynamite beneath the bridge, wrecking the locomotive of the approaching train. Two of their own men were killed by the explosion, and in getting away three were wounded by the rebels, they say.

It is generally believed that the federal loss was heavier, as many riderless horses have been coming into Juarez, and eight of them were caught in El Paso with blood-stained saddles. Six horses were captured in Ysleta, twelve miles below El Paso, one of them wounded.

Two passenger trains pulled into Juarez and the crews declared that a force of rebels came on as far as Samalayuca, thirty miles below Juarez, where they detained. The crews said that the city of Juarez would be attacked. These are the two trains that have been marooned between El Paso and Chihuahua since Sunday.

While the trains were marooned south of Juarez between Sunday and Wednesday, the food supply of the passengers ran out and the insurgents fed them from their commissary and from beehives slaughtered on the spot. The rebels had a number of wounded, and these were treated by the passengers, Pullman sheets being torn up for bandages.

Miss Annette B. Cowles, a trained nurse from Mexico City, and Miss Eleanor Woodruff, of Guadalajara, led in this work, assisted by James R. Garfield, former secretary of the interior.

GET CLUE TO BARREL VICTIM

Identity of Woman Killed Three Years Ago Believed to Be Found.

Hazleton, Pa., Feb. 3.—According to clues discovered here, the victim of the barrel mystery three years ago was probably Miss Bertha Garlow, who disappeared from West Hazleton. She is said to have known the secrets of a Black Hand gang in this vicinity.

The body of the woman was hacked and then jammed into a sugar barrel that was set on fire on the Ebervale mountain, where the charred and unrecognizable corpse was found by a miner. Only one shoe and a necklace remained intact, but they furnished no clue to the identity of the victim.

Trading Stamps Legal in Maryland.

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 3.—The Maryland court of appeals declared unconstitutional a legislative enactment regulating the conduct of the trading stamp business in the state. The companies contended that the requirements and conditions imposed by the act made the issuance of stamps prohibitive. The opinion holds broadly that the present manner of conducting the trading stamp business does not involve such chance and uncertainty as to arouse the gaming and gambling spirit.

Boston, Feb. 3.—Signatures of 800 clergymen of Massachusetts are affixed to a remonstrance against the further increase of the navy, which was sent to Congressman Samuel W. FINDS 250 POUNDS HONEY IN BARREL

Bees Coming From Bung Hole Led to Discovery.

Middletown, N. Y., Feb. 3.—When John R. H. Hayes, of Monroe, discovered bees crawling about the floor of his furnace room he investigated and saw they were coming from the bung hole of what he supposed to be an empty cider barrel.

The barrel was heavy, so he poked a stick into it, and this, when withdrawn, was covered with honey. Hayes plugged the hole and rolled the barrel out into the yard. When the bees were thoroughly chilled he knocked in the barrel head and found 250 pounds of honey. The honey has a cider flavor.

Middletown, N. Y., Feb. 3.—While on her way home at Oakridge, N. J., from Rochester, N. Y., with her husband and five-year-old daughter, Mrs. William Oliver became violently insane on an Erie train.

She was taken from the train in Middletown by her husband, who tried to get her received at the Middletown State hospital. Admittance was refused, however, as the woman is a resident of New Jersey. NO HOPE FOR ARCHBISHOP Rallies From Comatose Condition and Chats With Friends.

Philadelphia, Feb. 3.—The condition of Archbishop Ryan is extremely serious and hope for his recovery has been practically abandoned. Cheered by the visits of several of his closest friends, prominent men in church and state, the archbishop rallied from the comatose state in which he had lain and came once more into the full possession of his faculties, talking and joking with the visitors and with those who kept watch at his bedside.

His wonderful vitality and the strong will power which is now the main factor in keeping him alive, have astonished his physicians, and they were more than delighted by the great improvement he displayed when he came out of the coma from which they feared he would never revive.

Probably the most cheering visit of the day for the archbishop was that of former Governor Edwin S. Stuart, who has long been a warm personal friend of the venerable prelate.

SHOT AT ON ROAD

Attempt Made to Kill Farmer and Wife While Returning Home.

Milford, Del., Feb. 3.—While Theodore Hammond, a farmer, and his wife were driving home from a shopping trip to Milford, an attempt was made to kill them.

One of the bullets went so close to Hammond that the brim of his hat was hit. All except one bullet was wild, several shots being fired.

Hammond whipped up his horse and raced by, while the men still continued to fire at the flying carriage. Hammond believes the assault was intended as a hold-up. The shooting has been reported to the town police and an investigation is being made.

ASSAILS U. S. STEEL AS WORST TRUST

Representative Stanley Demands Congressional Probe.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Representative Stanley, Democrat, of Kentucky, made a forty-five-minute plea in the house of representatives for action by that body on his resolution calling for an investigation of the United States Steel Corporation.

He characterized the corporation as a "lawless, defiant and pernicious monopoly," and demanded that the guilty, no difference "how high or powerful, be brought to the bar of justice."

"If this government," said Mr. Stanley, "is serious and earnest in its determination to enforce the Sherman anti-trust law it is in honor bound to call this greatest of all combines and all-pervading of all trusts to justice."

Mr. Stanley declared that the "steel trust," in fear of competition from Andrew Carnegie, paid him the colossal sum of $520,000,000 for a plant rated two years before at $75,000,000. He cited the absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company as an evidence of the audacious strength of the "trust."

On the latter connection he declared that E. H. Gary and Henry C. Frick went to the President Roosevelt and told him that, if he dared to interfere with their plans, whether legal or illegal, the "so-called prosperity of his administration would end in a financial cataclysm."

"Never," continued Mr. Stanley, "since the prince of darkness appeared to the Nazarene on the mountain, was such a visitation of evil and far-reaching domination unveiled. And the hero of San Juan hill and the savior of men assumed the same relative position toward the arch-tempter. The savior said 'Get thee behind me, Satan,' and Roosevelt cried, 'I will get in front of you, thou omnipotent devil. I will paralyze the arm of justice and still the voice of popular clamor while you sandbag a competitor and loot a dominion in the south, rich and vast as an empire.'"

New Senators Sworn In.

Washington, Feb. 3.—C. W. Watson, of West Virginia, and A. J. Gronna, of North Dakota, successors respectively of Davis Elkins and William E. Purcell, took the oath of office in the senate and their seats in that body.

PROBING CAUSE OF EXPLOSION

Blame For Disaster Put Up to Jersey Central Railroad.

LONG VIOLATED THE LAW

New Jersey Officials Intimate That Civil and Criminal Action May Be Brought Against Those Involved.

New York, Feb. 3.—The Jersey officials stirred themselves to find out who was to blame for the explosion that killed thirty men, injured hundreds and imperiled property on both sides of the river. They decided to put the responsibility up to the Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Jersey City and Hudson county officials had a conference. After it was over the information was given out that the railroad had been handling dynamite contrary to law for several years and that civil and criminal actions will be brought.

Warrants were issued for the arrest of seven officers and employees of the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Dupont De Nemours Powder company and for James Healing, owner of the Katherine W., one of the two lighters which was destroyed in the explosion.

Prosecutor Garvan, of Hudson county, and Inspector of Combustibles Connolly, after questioning employees of the Dupont De Nemours company and the Jersey Central railroad, said that it was up to the railroad to explain why the Dupont company was permitted to dump tons of giant powder on pier No. 7 in direct violation of the state law. There lay the heart of the matter as the Jersey City officials saw it.

Preliminary investigation showed that the Katherine W., a small steamboat converted into a lighter, and which was blown to smithereens, was an old offender in running dynamite through New York harbor. James Healing, of Jersey City, who owned the boat, and who leased her frequently to the Dupont De Nemours people, admitted that the Katherine W. never had a license for handling powder, and he said he knew that the Dupont people hadn't got permits for the Jeannie, Whistler and Repento, their own lighters.

The seven men on the vessel were licensed by the New York bureau to engage in the transportation of explosives.

Mr. Connolly said also that the Central Railroad of New Jersey had procured no permit to carry explosives through Jersey City during the four years that he had held office. He said there was a city ordinance governing such matters, which requires that every shipment of explosives over 5000 pounds must be transferred at sea, 1000 feet or more from a pier. He said the custom formerly was to carry the dynamite out to sea and then load it upon the boats.

Meanwhile the process of searching the debris on the scene of the explosion at pier No. 7, near the Communipaw station of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, where twenty-three tons of exploding dynamite that was being transferred from cars to lighter had wrought such tremendous havoc, is being diligently prosecuted. No bodies in addition to the five already recovered were found, however, and owing to the presence of quantities of unexploded dynamite mixed with the wreckage, the work proceeds carefully and slowly.

The list of identified dead stands at nine, with nine known missing and a score of laborers, names unknown, not accounted for. The death list will probably exceed thirty.

Between 200 and 300 persons were injured, being cut by glass broken by the concussion, in many cases far from the scene of the explosion.

The property loss is nearly $1,000,000. The heaviest sufferer is the Central Railroad of New Jersey, about $200,000. The United States is a loser, with $50,000 damage at the Ellis Island immigration station, $15,000 at the army headquarters on Governor's Island and Bedloe's Island, where the Statue of Liberty was shaken bare of many windows and big electric lights.

"Coffee Trust" Plans 4 Cent Advance.
Washington, Feb. 3.—The existence of an alleged coffee trust has been called to the attention of the department of justice. It is charged that the marketing of Brazilian coffee is entirely in the hands of a committee which controls the market and is now planning an advance of 4 cents a pound. The statement made to the department declares that the committee is preparing to market 78,000,000 pounds of beans at an additional profit of $3,000,000.

No Reciprocity This Session Says Root.
Washington, Feb. 3.—Senator Root, at the White House, declared himself in favor of both a permanent tariff commission and Canadian reciprocity. He said, however, that neither would probably pass at this session, owing to the congestion of business in the senate.

25 Sailors Drown in Storm.
Barcelona, Spain, Feb. 3.—A wild storm swept the Spanish coast. A score of fishing craft were dashed upon the rocks and many of their crews lost. The bodies of twenty-five sailors were picked up along the coast.

GREAT EARTH SLIDE INTO PANAMA CANAL

Has Started to Move in the Culebra Cut.

Washington, Feb. 3.—Another great earth slide a mile long has started to move in the Culebra cut in the Panama canal.

The slide has already completely covered the thirty-five foot bank of the canal opposite the towpath with 250,000 cubic yards of material.

The slide began, according to the canal record, Jan. 18, on the west bank of the canal, opposite the Culebra hotel.

Up to Jan. 25 the earth had not encroached on the railroad tracks in the lower part of the cut to any extent, and the regular operations there were not interfered with. Some hasty shifting of frame houses became necessary to save them from the earth slide.

SENATE PASSES SUBSIDY BILL

Vice President Shorman Cast Deciding Vote.

TWO TIE BALLOTS TAKEN

Even With Vice President's Vote Measure Would Have Failed Had New Senator From West Virginia Been in His Seat.

Washington, Feb. 3.—The senate passed the ocean mail subsidy bill, which authorizes the postmaster general to enter into contracts for carrying the mails to South American ports and to the Philippines, Japan, China and Australia, at a rate of $4 a mile on the outward voyage to vessels of the second class and $2 a mile on the outward voyage to vessels of the third class.

The amount of the subsidy to be paid in any one year, however, is limited to $4,000,000, and under no circumstances shall exceed that amount of money received on account of foreign mails. This is the first important administration measure to be passed by the senate this session.

The bill went through under conditions that gave very little encouragement to its friends. On two separate roll calls on the passage of the measure the vote was a tie, 39 to 39.

The vice president exercised his prerogative and thus saved the measure from defeat.

Even then the bill would have failed but for the absence of the new Democratic senator from West Virginia, Clarence Watson, who took the oath of office at the urgent request of his Democratic colleagues, who were anxious to get rid of one Republican vote and, as they supposed, adopted one Democrat in opposition to the measure. Mr. Watson was in the senate chamber during the early part of the voting, but disappeared later and couldn't be found. A diligent search was made for him. Furthermore, he left no authority to pair him and no pair was arranged.

Senator Scott, Republican, of West Virginia, with a smile, announced the absence of his colleague and ventured to suggest that Mr. Watson was "undoubtedly detained from the senate by important business." The Republican senators enjoyed the situation and the Democrats appeared to be very much disgusted. They are not at "Brother Watson."

THE BALLY SUFFRAGETTES

Lord Camoys, Decies' Best Man, Can't Discuss Them, You Know.

New York, Feb. 3.—Lord Camoys, a cousin of Baron Decies, who will be best man when the baron weds Miss Vivien Gould Tuesday, and Colonel Edward Lumb, retired, of the Life Guards, a brother-in-law of the bridegroom to be, have been photographed, jocularly remarking that "the bally pictures would do to send their friends to show how they looked after a night of it in the United States."

Colonel Lumb and Lord Camoys are stopping at the Waldorf-Astoria.

"Lord Camoys can't discuss the suffragettes, you know," said Colonel Lumb. "It would be bally dangerous, and he might lose his seat in the house of lords. The creatures are so blasted outrageous at times they would amaze even you Americans."

Here Lord Camoys pleaded with Colonel Lumb to change the subject, saying that such statements if they got back to England would endanger his political future.

FATHER OF 14 ENDS LIFE

Mind Affected by Illness and Arrest, He Leaps Before Train.

Lancaster, Pa., Feb. 3.—Antoine Knalsch, aged fifty years, and who leaves a widow and fourteen children, committed suicide by throwing himself in front of a train on the Pennsylvania railroad within a few blocks of his home, in the eastern part of the city.

Knalsch's mind became affected several months ago through overwork and illness, and recently he was arrested for stealing market baskets and marketing. He left a note to his wife, stating that he could not stand the disgrace any longer, and that he was innocent.

Actress Fights Fire on Stage.

Greenwich, Conn., Feb. 3.—During a performance of "The Girl of the Golden West" at the Alhambra theater at Stamford, Justina Wayne, the leading woman of the Forbes Stock company, of Brooklyn, set fire to curtains with a candle. She kept on with the play, however, extinguishing the blaze with her hands, which were burned badly. The house rang with cheers for the plucky actress.

Tablet Voted For Greeley.

Concord, N. H., Feb. 3.—By vote of the legislature the birthplace of Horace Greeley in Amherst will be marked by a tablet. The centenary of Greeley's birth was observed in his native town today.

687 Sold the First Day Reserve Your Hudson Now

The first days' sales made to individuals by Hudson dealers—on the day when the new HUDSON "33", arrived—totaled 687 cars.

Howard E. Coffin is known for the successes he has produced wherever automobiles are used. The four famous cars he designed where the leaders of their time. At first he designed high-priced cars. Then he turned his attention to building a car that would give the same satisfactory service—that has the same grace and beauty and fine quality of materials, workmanship and finish that had been expected only of those selling at $2,000 and up.

The HUDSON "33" is his masterpiece.

Desirable cars are difficult to obtain when they are wanted.

You who wait until spring comes will surely find this condition. The most desirable cars will be sold far in advance.

If you intend buying a car, begin your investigation at once and assure yourself of delivery when you want it. There will be no change in models or price. Even cars that ordinarily have small demands, will be in large demand in spring.

By taking your car now you can get three months' extra use without extra cost.

Simplicity the Keynote

Simplicity is evident in every detail.

The number of parts used is 900 less than in the average car.

Oiling places can be reached without inconvenience or soiling the clothing.

Moving parts are all enclosed and dust-proof. This includes the valve mechanism, which is exposed in practically all American cars.

The frame is heavier than is used on any other car of its weight.

The motor and transmission are held together as a unit giving all the advantages of both the three and four point system of suspension.

Wheels are stronger than are ordinarily used.

Springs are so designed that they are practically unbreakable, yet they are easy and flexible.

There is greater leg room in the front seat than is provided in most cars.

The steering wheel is extra large—same as on the biggest costliest cars.

Don't these facts make you want to see the Hudson "33"?

Think what it means to obtain for $1250 the masterpiece of such an engineer as Howard E. Coffin.

Think what it means to obtain a car at that price that embodies the ideas that the leading European Engineers are this year putting on their cars, anyone of which sells for from three to five times the price of the HUDSON "33."

Then think what is indicated by the 687 orders taken the first day.

I have in my store the "33" Touring Car where I will be pleased to demonstrate it to prospective buyers.

VALUE OF COW TESTING.

One dairyman produced $2,000 worth of milk from twenty cows, or $100 per cow, while a neighbor bestowed twice as much labor on forty cows and sold only $1,800 worth of milk, or $45 per cow, barely paying expenses, while the first man made a profit of over $1,000. Yet the second man said he had no time to spend a few minutes each day weighing and testing the milk from each cow. Instead he spent four long, weary years in raising and harvesting the crops on a 160 acre farm and feeding and milking forty cows to make as much profit as his neighbor did in one year with half the cows, half the land and half the labor. —Professor W. J. Fraser, University of Illinois.

TRIBUTE TO THE JERSEY.

Aristocrat of the World, Says an Aristocrat.

Velancey E. Fuller, editor of the Practical Dairyman, pays the following tribute to the Jersey cow:

"The charge has been laid at my door that because I admire and appreciate a dairy cow, no matter of what breed, that I have ceased to love the Jersey. Nothing could be further from the truth. I admire and love her. I believe there is no cow so perfect in type, so beautiful in udder, having the same tenacity in milk, who can average so high a percentage of fat and

The imported Jersey cow Couleuse V. is a splendid specimen of this breed of dairy cattle. The Jersey cow is a profitable factory and converts cheap grains and roughage into rich milk and butter fat. She requires no more than a poor cow, but turns less into profit. When the farmer gives her extra care and better feed the Jersey rewards him with a greater flow of milk. She is tractable, easily handled, responds to kindness and is the farmer's friend. Two such animals are more valuable than a barn full of scrubs.

who will make as economical a yield of a hundred pounds of butter fat as the Jersey cow.

"She breeds true to type as no other breed except the Ayrshire does. She responds to good care and requires it. Her globules of fat being large, the grain of her butter cannot be excelled. Her butter remains firmer in heat than that of any other breed, her milk creams readily, and there is a perfect separation between cream and milk. As a buttermaker she is pre-eminent, and in her symmetry of form and beauty she is the aristocrat of the dairy world."

Sheep Shearings.

The Merino ewe and the mutton ram make about as profitable a sheep combination as it is possible to get.

Without proper feed and care no one can expect success with sheep.

In selecting a ram to head the flock a cull is dear at any price.

Remember, if your sheep are good they will always be a good, active market for them.

There is no longer any question about the wisdom of raising roosters for sheep feeding. They keep the sheep in the best possible condition.

Beets For Winter Feeding.

Sugar beets are probably at the head of the list of succulent feed for winter. Experiments in Colorado have demonstrated that they have a distinct feeding value of their own, due to the high sugar content.

The Loving Cup.

There are a great many stories told of the origin of the loving cup, and perhaps the following is the most interesting:

In the eleventh century Margaret Atheling, the wife of Malcolm Kenneth, became disgusted with the way in which the Scotch nobles left the dining table before her chaplain had time to say grace. So she promised all those who could be induced to wait for this ceremony a draft of the choicest wine from a large gold cup, which was passed from man to man around the table after grace had been pronounced. The bribe offered by the beautiful young queen was too inviting for the nobles to refuse, and they all stayed in consequence. The custom of passing around the "grace cup," as it was called at first, became so popular that it was observed all over the country, and every person of importance in the middle ages could boast of being the owner of one.
